

Photos of U.S. Medical and Emergency Experts' Visit to Liberia

A high-level delegation of U.S. medical experts and emergency responders, led by Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Dr. Tom Frieden, visited Liberia August 24-27, 2014 to see firsthand the impact of the Ebola outbreak, to assess response activities, and to hear from government officials, international partners, and health care workers in West Africa to see what can be done to stop the disease.

CDC/OFDA Directors visited Liberia august 24-27, 2014 Arrive at the Roberts International Airport (RIA)

At the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for a meeting with President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf:

At the Ministry of Health for a meeting with Minister, Dr. Walter Gwenigale and the management team :

At the Liberia Institute for Bio-Medical Research (LIBR), where a team of U.S. experts has helped to build the lab's capacity to test specimens for Ebola in Liberia:

At the John F. Kennedy Referral Hospital (JFK)

At the National Ebola Task Force Call Center:

At the Ministry of Internal Affairs and the World Health Organization (WHO) offices:

At the C. H. Rennie Hospital, Margibi County, Liberia

At the Harbel Health Center

At the ELWA Hospital Compound

